

Michael Eslami | Director, Private Office & Founder, SEND Family

Michael Eslami is a qualified financial planner, business owner, and the director of a private office with over 25 years of experience in global wealth management. As the founder of SEND Family, Michael specialises in complex legacy architecture - coordinating directly with accountants, financial advisers, tax advisers, and legal professionals. His unique superpower is taking that high-level, sophisticated structuring and translating it into calm, clear, and jargon-free guidance, empowering families to secure their children's long-term future without risking state benefits.

- Professional Standing: Director of a private office advising families, alongside consulting and mentoring other financial planners.
- Elite Collaboration: Works seamlessly within multidisciplinary teams - partnering directly with financial advisers, accountants, tax advisers, and legal professionals to build complex legacy architecture.
- The Translator: Bridges the gap between institutional-grade wealth structuring and real-world family needs, breaking down intricate strategies into calm, clear, and actionable steps for SEND families.
- Global Track Record: Over 25 years of experience spanning international wealth management and specialised UK estate protection.